Corporate Profiles October 1 2009

CANALASKA URANIUM LTD. has established itself as a premier junior exploration explorer in the Athabasca Basin. It has major funding partnerships with Japanese and Korean uranium end-user parties. With the help of these international partnerships CanAlaska has raised and spent over $55 million (in 5 years) in the definition of uranium exploration targets in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The Company has a series of additional high value uranium and gold projects for sale or option, many of these are suitable for CPC ventures.

CanAlaska has a full time staff of 25 technical and support employees, and 22 active exploration projects in the Athabasca region. The Company supervises and carries out its own exploration with these in-house teams. This hands-on approach allows better field control, and more rapid evaluation of results.

The Company has offices in Vancouver and Saskatchewan, and can manage exploration, and regulatory affairs for other junior explorers and for growing CPC's.

CATALINA RESOURCES PLC ("Catalina") is a UK-registered, mineral exploration company set up in 2006 to discover and evaluate mineral properties in South America. It has focused initially on Chile, the most mineral-rich country in South America. Catalina operates through a wholly-owned, Chilean-registered subsidiary – Minera Catalina S.A. Geophysical surveys at Catalina's Kahuna Project have outlined structures with potential copper-cobalt-gold mineralisation for reverse circulation drilling in Q4 2009. Exploration at the La Falda Project has discovered a potential multi-million ounce gold-porphyry deposit with additional epithermal gold-silver mineralisation – all probably within 400 m of surface. The first drilling is planned for Q4 2009.
